Van Deerlin To Launch Latest Ship

WASHINGTON — Rep. Lionel Van Deelin, D-San Diego, will be the main speaker at the launching April 13 of the third Navy ship in history to be named for San Diego.

The latest USS San Diego, a combat store ship, is being built by the National Steel and Shipbuilding Co. in San Diego. Her namesakes were both cruisers, the last of which was struck from the Navy's lists in 1959.

The new ship will be christened by Mrs. Frank Curran, wife of the San Diego Mayor.

Van Deerlin was invited by Navy Secretary Paul R. Ignatius to deliver the principal address at the launching ceremony. The Congressman last year had urged the Navy to designate the ship the "San Diego" in recognition of the close ties between the San Digo area and the sea service.

Request To Cut Regents Term To 6 Years is Made

Assemblyman John Stull (R-Leucadia) introduced a constitutional amendment today which would repeal Article IX, Section 9 of the California Constitution.

This is the section which relates to Higher Education. Stull's proposed amendment would shorten the terms of the University of California Regents from sixteen to six years.

It would also provide that Regents be appointed by the governor in staggered terms, and that Regent appointment be confirmed by the Senate.

Each appointed Regent will have to be a resident of the State of California at least five years prior to his appointment and shall continue as a resident during his term of office.

Contained in companion legislation, introduced by Assemblyman Stull, which will become law on the passage of the constitutional amendment, there is a provision that the Board of Regents shall make an annual accounting to the Department of Finance and the legislature of all monies received from any source.

It will require the Board of Regents to submit annually to the governor a detailed budget for each campus to be included in the budget bill.

Assemblyman Stull commented that, "In their worthy efforts to avoid political control of the university system, the framers of the California Constitution neglected one of the basic elements in our form of government.

They instituted a system with no checks and balances. As things stand now, the Regents are answerable to no one.

I cannot feel it is political control to make the Regents responsible to the people who must foot the bill.

"Recent events have demonstrated how far removed from the pulse of the people the Regents can become," Assemblyman Stull continued.

"That is why I feel their terms should be shortened. A shortened term will result in less long-range political control as ideological patterns cannot be so firmly imprinted in six as in sixteen years.

I think this legislative proposal is in the best tradition of our republican form of government."

Brookside Girds For Battle

The County News Association has advised that County Supervisors have once more agreed to hear from the disgruntled residents of Brookside about the large drainage channel that is the central factor of that subdivision. Brookside is that area south of Broadway between Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

The Brookside Committee has now demanded by letter-petition that the county completely cover the ditch and pay for the job out of general fund money or by other financing means that do not include participation of the property owners of Brookside.

The hearing was set on April 9 at 9:30, the earliest time the board could make the arrangement because of a heavy meeting and hearing schedule.

Lemon Grove Supervisor Robert Dent urged the board to again hear from the residents in the long-standing controversy.

The county has consistently held that the project is of local benefit and not even one that includes flood damage control. Once the county offered to pay half of the estimated $140,000 cost of lining the ditch if the residents would pay the rest but this was overwhelmingly rejected at a neighborhood meeting.

Warren A. Barney, director of the county's Department of Special District Services, said a project to cover the ditch would cost approximately $500,000. There is no suggestion that the board would have any interest in spending anything like this sum for a local enhancement project.

The committee's letter is pointed enough.

It says: " Be it understood that all three facets of government (state, federal ((through road construction)) and county) have contributed to the flooding conditions and it is the county's responsibility to negotiate with these departments of government for compensation and correction.

"Brookside residents have paid their taxes and are therefore now entitled to expect that without cost the county to exercise its responsibilities to protect the petitioner's property and health rights which are created and compounded by construction located outside the area."

Moreover, the committee does not want any further delays. The letter-petition says, "All steps for alleviation and corection to be accomplished by December 1968."

The committee seems to be under the impression that there is a pending flood control project for Brookside under a Corps of Army Engineers project. The committee objects to a delay of seven years for this project.

There is no such project, however, for Brookside, according to Barney.

Barney said he is working toward getting the Brookside project included in the much larger Spring Valley flood control project. He said he would not predict what the outcome would be, but he said the corps almost certainly would not approve just the Brookside project alone.

The non-compromise committee letter ends: Therefore be advised that petitioners formally demand that this petition and all requests and demands herein contained be carried out before December 1968.

"Petitioners will seek redress for all property damages, including loss of use of enjoyment of petitioners property, legal fees if required, medical costs and/ or illness to any members of petitioners' families that may be caused by negligence of the property authorities of San Diego County as a proximate result of said negligence or intentional failure to alleviate the dangers referred to herein."

The Seven Year Look

U.S. Representative Clark MacGregor, a Republican Congressman of Minnesota, makes some interesting comparisons between what the Great Society has helped to bring about and what we faced seven years ago.

In a current issue of Rep. Congressional Committee Newsletter, Congressman MacGregor shows some area in which the liberal Democratic conntrol has not made gains.

Today, we are at war in Vietnam. Seven years ago we were not. Today, serious trouble brews in the Middle East. Seven years ago it did not.

Today, violent civil disorders ravage our cities. Seven years ago it did not.

Today, Communists steal our ships. Seven years ago they wouldn't have dared.

Today, we approach runaway inflation. Seven years ago we did not.

Today, we have the Dodds, the Powells, the Bakers and others. Seven years ago we did not.

Today, we have lost the respect America once had throughout the world. Seven years ago we were respected.

Calif. Tax Law Change Is Made

There have been changes in the filing requirements for the California Personal Income Tax Law, Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board, said recently.

Single persons with an adjusted gross income of $2,750 and married couples with a combined adjusted gross income of $5,500 must file California returns. However, returns are required if the gross income exceeds $6,000, regardless of the amount of the adjusted gross income.

Some 340 thousand Californians made estimated payments on their 1967 State income tax liability last October, Huff said.

Those taxpayers who made an estimated payment should remember to deduct it from their tax when they prepare their 1967 returns and thus avoid an overpayment.

Form 540, the Individual Income Tax Return Form, provides a space in which to enter the amount of estimated tax paid, Huff pointed out.

Huff suggested that Californians should start preparing their tax returns as early as possible in order to give themselves a little extra leeway in case difficulties should arise. Taxpayers who wait until the April 15 deadline frequently do not have time to seek needed assistance, he noted.

All taxpayers should include their social security number on their returns in order to provide positive identification. With the volume of returns received by the department, even unusual names are common.

Stevie

Steve Veliquette Dies of Luekemia

A brave little boy who outlived medical science's prognosis by more than three years died Friday.

Steven R. Veliquette, 7 years old son of Jean and Roberta Veliquette, of 2895 Orange place, Lemon Grove, died Friday morning in Grossmont hospital after a three-years-and-seven-months battle with blood cancer. He suffered from leukemia since he was three years old.

Stevie attracted attention of some of the top specialists in the field of cancer by his his cheerful disposition — and his ability or resurgence each time the disease immobilzed him.

His doctor said that everything medical science had available was used to extend the life of the youngster. Specialists have asked the doctor to prepare a paper on the case because the boy lived far beyond the original "one-to-six months" prognosis of specialists.

Jean, Stevie's father, is a clerk in the Lemon Grove Post Office. Members of the L.G. Letter Carriers Association and auxiliary raised $171 by selling spices. These funds were used to help defray funeral expenses. The funeral home operator said he would contribute the difference between the fund and the cost of the funeral.

A year ago, Len Furness, operator of Brumley's Shoes, sponsored a golf-entertainment project which generated nearly $1,000 for the youngster's medical expenses. These funds were placed in trust with U.S. National Bank's local manager Bob Dryden.

Mrs. Veliquette said Saturday that any expenditures planned by interested people should be placed in a similar trust fund at the First National Bank in Lemon Grove. This money she said, would be used to cover past expenses of Stevie's illness and to provide funds for other youngsters suffering from leukemia who need things aside from medical care. She cited the case of a youngster at Sharp hospital who shared a room at one time with Stevie and had the same disease. Ironically, his birthday falls on July 2, as does Stevie's. "This youngster was disappointed when we brought Stevie gifts and he got none. As far as we know, there are no funds available to provide this sort of assistance," she said.

Husband-Wife Team Authors Of Science-Fiction Books

A civics and social studies teacher at Mt. Miguel high school has authored a book which has been named as a spring selection of the Junior Literary Guild.

The teacher, Mrs. Jean Sutton, who lives in La Mesa with her author-husband Jeff, is co-author of three forthcoming books— all science fiction. Her first effort, "THE BEYOND", is in collaboration with her husband.

"THE BEYOND" is an intriguing story of life on another planet — a sort of Alcatraz of the Universe — in 50,000 A.D.

The story takes an investigator to the planet Engo to investigate the report that a "beyond" lives there.

Engo is where outcasts of other planets are sent and and a "beyond" is a dangerous person who can transmit objects and even persons through space by extreme concentration.

There is an intermediate condition among of the exiles; that of telepathy.

The investigator learns that he is telepathic as he falls in love with a toothsome young female who exiled herself to be with her young brother. It is her brother who is suspected of the the "beyond."

The investigator joins forces with the exiles when he realizes how cruelly they have been treated. In a surprise ending matters are arranged so that there appears to be some hope for the day to come when all men would be equal; it being a surprise that in the year 50,000 A.D. no one has yet solved that problem.

Other books by the same author, scheduled to come off the presses later this spring include "THE PROGRAMMED MAN," "THE LORD OF THE STARS" and "THE BOY WHO HAD THE POWER". All are science fiction and all are co-authored with her husband. "THE PROGRAMMED MAN" is a Junior Literary Guild selection.

Mrs. Sutton, a native of Denmark, Wisconsin, spent her childhood on a dairy farm. She attended the University of Wisconsin. She later received her Bachelor's degree in Economics at UCLA.. A resident of San Diego since the close of World War II, she was secretary to the San Diego City Council for several years. Receiving her Master's degre in Education at San Diego State College, she joined the Grossmont Union High School District in 1959.

Her interest in writing began when she served at editor-in-chief of her husband's first fiction venture, an Ace publication titled "FIRST ON THE MOON."

Before writing under her own name, she participated in the editing of fifteen book-length novels written by her husband. These include "THE MISSILE LORDS, "APOLLO AT GO, and "BEYOND APOLLO. Other works include "THE ATOM CONSPIRACY," "THE RIVER," "SPACEHIVE," "BOMBS IN ORBIT," and miscellaneous novels concerned with war and adventure.

The Suttons have two children. Gale, 15, a junior at Helix High School, last year published her first poetry. A son, Chris is a senior at the Universty of Calforna at Santa Barbara.

Kuchel Receives Distinguished Service Award In Washington

Washington, D.C. — Senator Thomas H. Kuchel was named today to receive a Distinguished Service to Conservation Award from the National Wildlife Federation, the world's largest private conservation organization.

Senator Kuchel was cited, jointly with Senator Alan Bible (Nev.), for national recognition in the Federations third annual Conservation Achievement Program conducted during 1967.

The "Connie" Award, in the form of a whooping crane statuette, will be presented to the California Senator Saturday night, March 9, during the Federation's President's Conservation Achievement Banquet at the Continental Houston Hotel, Houston, Texas.

The banquet is a highlight of the program for the Federation's 32nd annual meeting being held in Houston March 8-10. More than 500 persons will attend, including Federal and State officials, Federation members and delegates, and letders of other private conservation organizations. Texas Governor John B. Connally will be the principal speaker.

In citing Senator Kuchel, the Federation called attention to his outstanding service and leadership in the 90th Congress as ranking minority member of the Senate's Subcommittee on Parks and Recreation.

He has been istrumental in the establishment, since 1961, of some 47 new units in the national parks system. In California alone, Senator Kuchel successfully sponsored bills to create the Tule Lake National Wildlife Refuge, the Point Reyes National Seashore, and the Whiskytown National Recreation Area. He has obtained Senate approval of a Redwood National Park and two additions within the State to the National Wilderness System.

Senator Kuchel also serves on the Senate Committe on Appropriations, where he has exerted extraordinary leadership in obtaining the necessary funding for many national park, outdoor recreation, and other conservation projects.

A native of Anaheim, Calif., Senator Kuchel received an A.B. degree in History from the University of Southern California in 1932, was graduated from it School of Law in 1935.

He was State Assemblyman from Orange County from 1936-1940, was elected State Senator in 1940. From 1942-45, we was on active duty as a commissioned officer with the U.S. Navy.

Medi-Cal Kickbacks Charged

The California Pharmaceutical Association has pointed out alleged Medi-Cal kickbacks, double-billing and fraudulent billing procedures.

The charges came at a meeting last week of druggists in Los Angeles. They said that sloppy procedures have resulted for loose state administration, lack of enforcement by government attornys and improper motivation by gov-government employees.

Cecil A. Stewart, executive vice president of the California Pharmaceutical Association, in airing these charges against state officials said that "the flagrant violations of public trust by a few vendors, when brought to our attention as far back as 1964 and 1965, were immediately directed to the attention of the State Attorny General's office through the California State Board of Pharmacy.

"In the infant days of Medi-Cal, we advised the State Wel-

* * *

A Girl Scout is not a hippie; but she's not a square either.

She's the kind of girl who knows how to give a good party and how to pitch a tent. She's an articulate representative of the U.S.A. at the international conferences. She's an eager worker in the slums and ghettos of American cities.

It's hard to put a label on this kind of girl. Maybe the best word for her is "involved." She cars about about herself and about others. She's where the action is.

Her kind of caring — and acting— probably began when, as a seven-year-old Brownie, she adopted a tree in distress and helped make it grow.

Then she helped a person grow strong. For a girl like that, the caring and acting and growing never stops.

So we'll leave labels for the hippies and squares. A Girl Scout is something else. Happy birthday to her and to the almost three-quarter million members of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. — a 56 year old oragnization that is always young.

Easter Seal Report Shows 26,000 Have Received Services

Voluntary contributions from over half a million Californians were mostly responsible for nearly 26,000 crippled children and adults receiving services from Easter Seal societies throughout the state in 1967. The annual report was made from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of California headquartered here.

The report provides facts about the types of Easter Seal services available, along with a detailed consolidation of the income and expenditures of local Easter Seal units.

As stated in the report, income for California Easter Seal societies totalled $3,701,296 for 1967. The major part of this, $2,851,680, was contributed through the annual Easter Seal campaign and othre fund-raising efforts.

Last year's campaign showed a record statewide increase of 10.5% over the previous year's donations. These donations enabled local Easter Seal units to serve 15,739 children and 9,834 adults in 1967, all of whom were cripped by illness, birth defect or accident.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

It is with mixed emotions that I have been reading in Letters to the Editors the anguish cries for something to be done about crime, the rebellious campus students, communist speakers on campus, the Supreme Court, uncontrollable spending; and the veterans' feeling that he is all alone. I am glad to know that people are becoming concerned and are awakening, but for years there were many of us that tried to tell you people what was happening and we were called radicals and laughed at. We tried to speak out against communist speakers on campus but were told we were against Freedom of Speech. We protested against the Supreme Court's ruling on prayer but were told that church and state should be separated, and so on. Now you are concerned and you are calling for marches and meetings in your home and you will go off in all directions and find out that you can't march because it takes, time, organization and money and some people won't want to meet in homes because it will interfere with bowling or bridge or what have you.

Don't despair, you can do something. Join women's clubs who are politically oriented and know the ropes in fighting these problems; join veterans groups or political groups for husbands and wives that meet in evenings who are engaged in fighting communism and liberals who believe in the theory "Rather Red than Dead". If you are really concerned you can do something constructive buut it won't be easy. People will probably call you radical, right-wing, book burner and all that rot simply because you happen to be a patriotic American who believes in constituutional government and believes in solving problems the American way by letters to congressman and the vote. We are waiting for you, we need you.

Top Western Viewed

Western movie fans saw a film acclaimed as perhaps the greatest "western" ever made and a classic in its field last Thursday night at Grossmont College's Fine Arts Lecture Hall when "High Noon" was shown.

Relating almost wholly to events that take place in one hour in the little, hot and dusty town of Hadleyville in 1870, "High Noon" is in essence a study of a community and one man's courage, roused by his strong feeling of responsibility. Another classic western will be shown on March 14, 1968 when "Shane" is presented in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

The public is invited to attend these classic westerns at Grossmont College. The price of admission is $.75 with tickets available at the door.

On-Street Parking Out in Cd'O

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County supervisors cancelled on-street parking in Casa de Oro by a 4-1 vote with Leon D. Green determinedly protesting.

The area affected is Campo rd. between Conrad and Granada. The decision will permit the state Division of Highways to create a center lane over the entire length from which left turns may be made into any driveway — not just at intersections.

The single-width two-lane appears to invite headon collisions but County Engineer David Speer said it would reduce the high accident rate on Campo rd. by one third.

Green, operator of Robinson and Green Plumbing Co., 10030 Campo rd., presented a 87-name petition to the board. Dent was the sole backer of Green.

Statistics were produced to show that three percent of the spaces are used. Also shown were figures on 80 accidents on Campo rd. in the past three years. 42 of them were left-turn incidents. Speer said there were about 100 on-street parking spaces involved. There are 460 off-street spaces available in the same area, he said.

Grossmont College Graduates Rank Top At San Diego State

A report by San Diego State College on the scholastic standing of junior college students transferring to that institution in February 1967 indicates that Grossmont College students again surpassed the grade point average of all junior college transfer students as a group.

In the report to Grossmont College President Harold G. Hughes, it was pointed out that the 166 Grossmont College students, transferring to San Diego State College in February, 1967, maintained an average grade point average (GPA) of 2.32 as compared with an average GPA of 2.17 for 604 students transferring from other junior colleges. In February, 1966, students transferring from Grossmont College earned an average GPA of 2.19 compared with an average GPA of 2.14 for all other junior college transferees.

Attributing the higher GPA, in part, to post-transfer interviews conducted with former Grossmont College students attending San Diego State College, Hughes said, "The results of the interviews were evaluated by our counseling staff who made recommendations which have, for the most part, been incorporated as standard operating procedure and policy at Grossmont College."

"These recommendations included further development of lower division courses for transfer students, an increase in information available to transfer students regarding San Diego State College, provision for an on-campus tutorial service, and full utilization of counseling staff services," Hughes concluded.

MAIL BAG

Dear Editor:

This is a belated letter of appreciation for your kindness in sending me the S.V. Bulletin during my duty in Guam. I am sending you, enclosed, some of the Guam papers and military publications that we have to entertain us. This island, part of the Micronesian chain, is rapidly becoming "U.S." We have the welfare, the juvenile delinquents, the "gutless" judges, and the overworked and disenchanted police. We have already "caught up".

The military control most of the island — that is, they have most of the real estate, and their own supply of food thru P.X. and commissary.

Guamanians are really good and good-living people, with hundreds of years of Spanish control and Cathloic influence behind them. They are kind, basically a happy "Chamorro" islanders who have coped with Spain, U.S., Japan, and have seen good days along with the bad.

Filipino's are "imported" here to do the real work — the engineering, the dirty work. They are the "dependables" and I cannot praise them too highly. I am going to sail hofe, with Mrs. Drevitson, on the SS America Bear on or about Jan. 28.

So, if you please, discontinue sending the Bulletin to SRF Guam, and, please, continue to send it to 9902 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, Space 137. We have enjoyed your news and editorials immensely and wish to thank you so much for your concern in sending your paper unsolicited.

Sincerely,
Wesley B. Drevitson

P.S. We pass your paper to other S.V. people.

Mercy Hospital Accredited

Sister Mary Placida, Mercy Hospital Administrator, announced that the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals has again given three-year accreditation to the hospital.

Steve Veliquette--

"We believe Stevie lived longer because so many people were interested," his mother said. "He knew people cared. Even at his young age he loved church and God. He loved school. He got top grades."

The youngster was a second grade student at Golden Avenue school. "He was not only a good student but he was a good boy, too. He wanted desperately to please his teachers and us," his mother said.

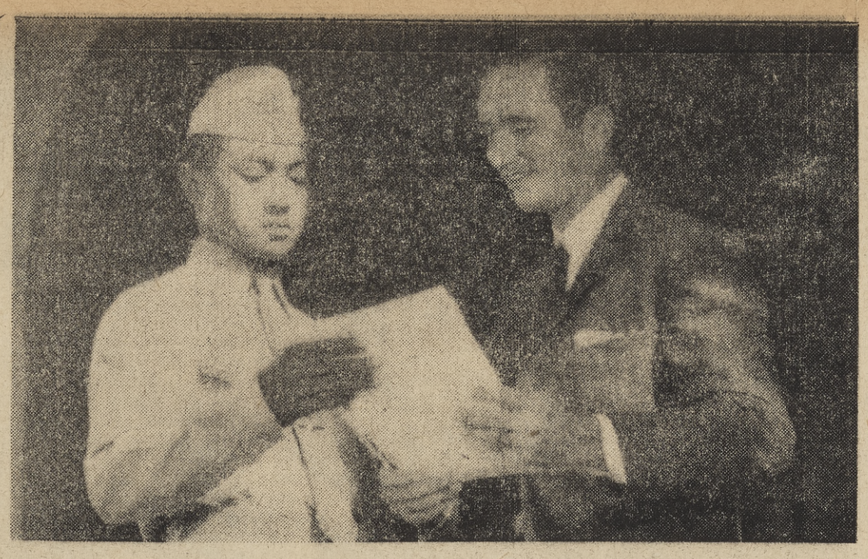
Stevie was buried Monday with one of his closest friends officiating at the sad little ceremony. The officiant was the Rev. Jimmy Johnson, of the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist church.

His doctor said that he was a valiant, intelligent youngster whose battle was an inspiration to many people.

The boy was attending school and playing normally a week before he succumbed.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters: Jeanne and Susan, and a half-brother.

Graveside services were held Monday at Mt. Hope under the direction of Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary with the Rev. Jimmy Johnson officiating.



Councilman Mike Schaefer To Run Against Congressman Van Deerlin

San Diego City Councilman Make Schaefer announced today (Wednesday, March 6) that he will seek the Republican nomination in the 37th Congressional District.

Schafer, 30, was reelected to his City Council post last November for a second term by a wide margin. Schaefer announced his candidacy at a luncheon of the Federated Republican Women's Clubs at the U.S. Grant Hotel where he was the guest speaker.

Schaefer, a native San Diegan, told the Republican women that the South Vietnamese economy is "growing fat on a United States-financed war economy." He said the South Vietnamese should care enough about the American effort to "put everything they have on the line" or else the United States should not be expected to.

"It's time that the South Vietnamese got just as tough and just as devoted to the war as the North Vietnamese," said Schaefer. He also called for a new look at this nation's commitment in Southeast Asia "based on 1968 realities."

A councilman for slightly over two years, Schaefer was returned to office by a 77 per cent vote last year. Prior to taking his seat on the council Schaefer served the city as deputy city attorney.

A graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and the Georgetown Law School, Washington, D.C., Schaefer served for a year as a financial analyist for the federal Securities and Exchange Commission and also worked with the office of Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California while in Washington.

Schaefer told his luncheon audience that he is seeking the nomination because "San Diego is becoming a big U.S. Embassy with the pesent Democratic incumbent serving as President Johnson's ambassador from Washington to San Diego."

"We don't need an ambassador from Washington, said Schaefer. "We need and deserve a representative from San Diego and the South Bay to the federal government, not the Johnson administration "rubber-stamp" that we are now suffering with."

Schaefer, who at 27 was the youngest person ever to serve on the City Council, represents the eighth district which includes most of the city east of Wabash Freeway and south of University Avenue. He owns his own home at 3505 College ave.

He is a 1956 graduate of Mission Bay High School. While a college student he spent three months touring Europe including a brief visit to Soviet areas.

Social Security News

The Lemon Grove Review presents this question and answer column about the Social Security Program as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frequently asked About Social Security. The answers are provided by Sumio Oto, El Cajon Social Security District Office Manager.

Q. I am a widow with 3 small children. We each receive $84.80 per month. Someone told me we will be restricted to less than a 13% increase because of the maximum that can be paid on one account number. Is this true?

A. It is not true in your case. There is a maximum payable on any Social Security account. However, under the provisions of the new law, since you and your children were entitled in or before February, 1968, you will each receive at least a 13% increase in your benefit beginning with the February check payable in March, 1968.

Q. I will be 65 years old in March this year. Last December I filed a Social Security claim for Medicare and found I did not qualify for the Hospital Insurance part of Medicare. I was told I had only four quarters of work credits under Social Security and would need at least six. Has this been changed under the 1967 amendments?

A. Yes. Now you need only 3 quarters to qualify. For people who reach 65 after 1968, the amount of work credits needed increases by 3 quarters each year—six quarters will be needed by those who reach 65 in 1969, nine in 1970 and so on.

If you have further questions regarding changes in the Social Security Law, write or contact the Social Security District Office, 1075 East Main Street, El Cajon, California 92021. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 7.30 p.m. on Wednesdays. The phone number is 442-0851.

Padre Ticket Sales Increase

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Season ticket sales for the 1968 San Diego Padres home games are on the upswing and general manager Eddie Leishman attributes the increase to a pair of very important reasons.

The Padres, 1967 Pacific Coast League champions, launch their title defense, April 16, against the Indianapolis Indians in the new, 50,000 seat San Diego Stadium.

"We can attribute our increase to two specific reasons: our moving into the new stadium after ten years in Westgate Park and people are aware of the fact that they are establishing a priority for major league baseball."

Last year, in their final season at Westgate Park, the Padres topped all minor league teams in attendance, bettering 250,000 fans.

Hardison's Telespanish

What is the difference between the word "tengo" and "tiene?" Both words are a derivation from the very "tener" which means "to have." The word "tengo" means "I have" and "tiene" can mean "you have" or "he has."

The word "tengo" is the first person form of the verb. This means that it identifies the first person pronoun "yo" whether that pronoun appears in the phrase or not. For example, we may say "Tengo la llave." (I have the key.) or "Yo tengo la llave." (I have the key.) Both phrases are transmitted the same even though the first phrase does not have the word "yo."

The word "tiene" is the third person form of the verb. It must have one of three pronouns used in conjunction with it. If a pronoun is not used with it, the subject will not be clearly defined. One of the pronouns, either "el" (he), "ella" (she), or "usted" (you) must be used with "tiene."

Thus we may say "El tiene amigos." (He has friends.), "Ella tiene amigos." (She has friends.), and "Usted tiene amigos." (You have friends.).

If we just say "tiene amigos" it is not clear which of the three pronouns "el, ella, or usted" is the subject of the phrase. There is only one pronoun, "yo," associated with the word "tengo" and it becomes the subject whether expressed or not.

Practice today's phrases which contain "tiene" and "tengo" with the automatic voice when you dial [illegible].

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Tiene usted la llave?" (tee-EH-neh oo-STEHD la YAH-veh) for "Do you have the key?"

Say "Si, tengo la llave." (SEE TEHN-goh lah YAH-veh) for "Yes, I have the key."

OTHER PHRASES

USEFUL PHRASES

How do you own a stack of Savings Bonds when you're older?

Start young.

Start small, if you want to, but start steady. The important thing is to have a regular program of setting something aside every payday.

What's most important: it's never too early to begin.

You say that takes more will power than you can muster up on a regular basis? Then use the easy, automatic way: join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

This way your employer saves your money for you— puts it toward the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond.

Pretty soon you won't even miss the money. In fact, you'll probably forget how fast your savings are growing.

Here's a for-instance: just $4.33 a week adds up to the $18.75 you need to buy a $25 Bond every month. That's $300, maturity value, a year. Not bad for a former spendthrift! What's more, those few dollars you're tucking away to grow will be working all the time to help keep our country strong and free.

So start now, start young, building up the savings that count so much later on. Join the Payroll Savings Plan before next payday.

Southern Baptist Conference Meets March 11, 12, 13

More than 3500 members of Southern Baptist Churches in San Diego County are expected to attend the Encounter Crusade Personal Evangelism Institute being conducted by the San Diego Southern Baptist Association.

The Institute is scheduled for March 11, 12, 13. It will be held at First Southern Baptist Church, San Diego, 4353 Park blvd.

Richard G. Bryant said the Institute will prepare church member to take an active part in presenting the Encounter message to people of all walks of life in our County.

"Encounter", he pointed out, "is that moment which comes to everyone of us when we must decide what we will do with Christ . . . will we give Him just place in our lives or will we proceed without Him?"

Conducting the Institute at First Southern Baptist Church, San Diego, will be Pastors Robert Lewis of Westminister and Paul Box of Fullerton. Lewis is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Westminister and Box is pastor of the First Baptist Church, Fullerton, having recently accepted the church when he retired from the foreign mission field of Thailland because of health reasons.

"Encounter" is a six-month emphasis on evangelism being conducted by the Southern Baptist Churches of California. It has been described as the most intensive evangelistic endeavor undertaken by a single denomination on the history of California.

According to Dr. Eugene Grubbs, Director of Evangelism for the Southern Baptists of California, Southeern Baptists believe evangelism to be confronting persons (encounter) with the love of God expressed in Jesus Christ and with their need to respond to that love.

The "Encounter" Crusade will culminate in 42 Central Crusade Meetings throughout the state April 21-26. Southern Baptist Churches of the state will hold a follow-up week of special services April 28 through May 5 with out-of-state pastors conducting the services.

Monte Vista Students Prep Summer Hunt

The Monte Vista Art-Archaeology Club will create and bury imitations of an "ancient" civilization for the incoming freshmen to find and identify during the summer school course of Archaeology.

The types of artifacts being prepared include pottery, tools, clothes, furniture, books, sculptures, jewelry, and toys.

The freshmen will be given two days to dig up the artifacts, which will be buried on and around the campus. Up until this time, the students will be trained to unearth objects without damaging them..

The Art-Archaeology Club serves two purposes—it provides the students interested in art with a creative outlet, and it gives those interested in archaeology an understanding of man's development, according to Mr. George Gray, club advisor.

The projects are to be done mostly at home, although time is frequently given at school. They are to be turned in at the end of the school year, after which they will be buried. After being found and identified, they will be placed on public display.

This is the only project of its kind in the San Diego area. This year's club is an enlargement of the club organized and put into effect four years ago.

Decrease In '67 Boating Mishaps

Boating accident statistics released recently by the Department of Harbors and Watercraft show a total of 561 accidents resulting in 90 deaths on California waters for the year 1967.

This marks a drop from the 591 accidents and 103 deaths reported for 1966. Property damage, however, passed the one million dollar mark.

N. W. Sprow, Director of the Department of Harbors and Watercraft, pointed out that the accidents occurred in all parts of the state and involved all types of small craft.

Records show 163 of the accidents occurred on the ocean, 217 in tidal waters, and 178 on lakes, reservoirs and other non-tidal waters. More than 700 boats were involved, 129 of which were damaged to the extent they cannot be used again.

The accident toll included 287 collisions with other vessels or objects, and 56 fires and explosions. 82 vessels capsized and 48 ran aground.

Sprow estimated that 235 accidents could have been prevented by the operator through greater alertness, reduction in speed, better load distribution, or more skillful handling.

Faulty equipment and improper maintenance accounted for 95 accidents, while only 23 were attributed solely to bad weather. More than 420,000 boats were registered with the Department in 1967, and an estimated 1,700,000 people participated in boating activities.

Sprow said that the Department's statistics would be made available to interested agencies on their request.

"I Like L.G." Is Essay Topic

Eighth grade students of Palm Junior High school will compete for $25 in prizes in an essay contest "Why I Like to Live in Lemon Grove," Principal Hal Brogan said this week.

The contest is being sponsored by the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Inc., an arm of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce.

Best essays will be used in connection with Lemon Grove Old Time Days, an annual parade event sponsored by the organization.

"We can't tell outsiders too many times why Lemon Grove offers the best living conditions in the county," Al Woods, OTD chairman said.

Woods said that the $25 cash award would be divided into three runners-up and a sweepstakes award. "We suspect the winners will spent the prize money in Lemon Grove," he said. The money was contributed by a public-sprited local resident, Woods said.

Winning essays will be published in this newspaper. The contest will close in mid-month and judging will be complete as soon thereafter as possible. Winning essays will be published in this newspaper before the end of the month. Old Times Days is scheduled in Lemon Grove in May.
